

ELEMENTARY SCENARIO

Maya's Story

In a second-grade classroom, a teacher frequently becomes frustrated with Maya, who struggles with reading. The teacher often comments, "Maya, we've gone over this many times. Why can't you get it?" Over time, Maya becomes reluctant to participate in reading activities, fearing being called out or embarrassed. She begins to believe that she's not good at reading and starts to avoid books, even outside of school.

